

Executive Management Team

Ernest Cunningham

Chief Executive Officer

Ernest was the Founder and CEO of One Source Networks, one of Inc. Magazine's Top 10 Fastest Growing Companies which grew from $0 to $100 million in eight years before being acquired by GTT Communications, Inc. (NYSE: GTT) in 2015. Previously Ernest held senior executive positions with Broadwing and Level 3 Communications with primary responsibility for National Accounts and Wholesale Market programs. Ernest also spearheads a multimillion dollar real estate holding and management company.

Jim Tipton

Chief Financial Officer

Jim brings over 25 years of experience in finance executive roles including have led merger and acquisition activities on the buy and sell side, raising over half a billion dollars in the process. As CFO of One Source Networks, Jim oversaw the profitable growth and ultimate sale of the business to GTT at the end of 2015. Prior to this, Jim held key positions with Moxie Software (formally nGenera), OnFiber Communications and ConnectSouth Communications having started his career with Price Waterhouse Coopers.

Jay Kurtz

Chief Operations Officer

Jay is an industry veteran with almost 35 years of operations, engineering, sales (enterprise and wholesale), sales support, service delivery, customer service and product experience. He has held leadership roles spanning multiple wireline, managed services, fixed-wireless and equipment VARs providers. Jay's recent experience includes SVP of Field Operations for Rise Broadband, VP of Client Services at One Source Networks and executive/general manager positions at Cincinnati Bell and Broadwing Communications. Jay is a certified Six Sigma Yellow Belt and has considerable experience in establishing quality management systems and driving process improvements.

Jennifer Mao

Chief Marketing Officer

Bringing over 25 years of marketing and industry experience, Jennifer has held senior executive positions providing leadership in the areas of marketing strategy, communications, channel marketing, product management and public/analyst relations. Most recently, Jennifer was the executive vice president of marketing for Alpheus Communications. Prior to this, Jennifer held marketing leadership positions at Airband Communications, Sage Telecom, and GlobeRanger Corporation.

Mark Castle

Chief Revenue Officer (EMEA)

Mark was co-founder of Globalgig and has over 20 years' experience in the mobile telecommunications industry. He was key to many of the commercial, technological and strategic directions of Globalgig and remains responsible under the new iGEM ownership for all commercial aspects within EMEA.

Previously Mark has held senior positions in the SIM industry with Sagem Orga (now Safran Morpho) and Giesecke & Devrient (G&D) including working in the UK, Middle East and India

Joe Sikora

Chief Revenue Officer \(Americas\)

Joe has over 30 years of telecommunications industry experience, having previously built a $350 million-dollar business from scratch. Joe has successfully led many sales organizations to achieve unprecedented growth in his career. Prior to Globalgig, Joe held sales leadership positions at GTT Communications, Broadwing, One Source Networks, Airband and MCI. Joe holds an MBA from Ashland University and BSCS in Telecommunications from Ohio University.

Gregg Rowe

Chief Channel Officer

Gregg Rowe is a 28-year veteran of the technology industry. Gregg graduated as an Electrical Engineer from the University of Illinois and added a MBA from Washington University, Olin School of Business. Gregg evolved from his engineering roots to multiple successful sales roles in the robotics, information technology, and telecom industries. From these roles he took on progressively more responsibility holding wholesale, channel, and operational leadership positions with CenturyLink and Vonage. Gregg now leads Globalgig's Channel program.

Anthony Jett

EVP - M&A Strategy

Anthony brings more than 20 years' experience in telecommunications and related fields having held CEO positions in multiple technology companies focusing on service and hardware delivery. Anthony was the co-founder of Velis4, having spent the past 10 years building the company through organic growth and acquisitions before it was acquired by Globalgig in 2016. Anthony also invests his time working with several not-for-profit organizations where he also holds board positions.

Greg Casey

EVP - IOT and Strategic Accounts

As co-founder of iGEM, Greg brings over 35 years' experience in telecommunications having worked most recently with Ernest at One Source Networks. Greg previously founded Texas Energy Network which was the first provider of LTE service to the energy industry with a 50,000 square mile network across the Texas oilfields providing service to Shell, Occidental Petroleum, Anadarko and others. Prior to this Greg was EVP at Qwest Communications before it became Centurylink providing service to the likes of AT&T, Verizon, C&W and MCI Worldcom.

Sam Tuma

VP - Wholesale Services

Sam has over 20 years of experience in the telecommunications industry. As vice president of wholesale services, Sam is responsible for expanding channel distribution to deliver wholesale solutions to carriers and resellers partners. Prior to joining Globalgig, Sam served as the director of sales for enterprise, channel and services providers for Digital Realty/Telx a premier resource for interconnection and colocation. Sam's previous experience includes leadership position at Celairo and sales management positions at Level 3 Communications and New Edge Networks.